

NOVA SCOTIA FEDERATION OF MUNICIPALITIES

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Veteran Journalist Hired As New Communications Advisor

Halifax, July 29, 2019 – The Nova Scotia Federation of Municipalities (NSFM) is pleased to announce that Amy Pugsley Fraser was appointed to the newly-created position of Communications Advisor earlier this month.

For almost two decades, Amy covered municipal affairs as a journalist for allNovaScotia.com and The Chronicle Herald.

“Amy’s experience and knowledge are a great fit with the goals and objectives of the NSFM,” said Chief Executive Officer Juanita Spencer.

"The Federation is taking on a new direction and growing our team with strong, municipal champions is a key component of our plan. With her experience, Amy knows the people, the priorities, and the issues to help our province grow and our communities succeed."

Amy will begin her new role with NSFM on August 6th.

The Nova Scotia Federation of Municipalities (NSFM) has been the collective voice for municipal governments across the province since 1906. With 379 members comprising Mayors, Wardens and councillors, NSFM represents the interests of municipalities on policy and program matters that fall within provincial jurisdiction.

Members include all 50 of Nova Scotia's municipalities.

NSFM continues to advocate on behalf of our members for our five annual resolutions: reform of the CAP, Extended Producer Responsibility for consumer packaging, new sources for municipal funding, modernization of municipal governance, and a new funding model for roads.
