1. Executive Summary

The Nova Scotia Federation of Municipalities (NSFM) is a member-based, non-profit organization that advocates on behalf of the province's 49 municipalities. This includes identifying priorities from a diverse range of local governments by engaging with municipal councils, meeting with senior officials at the provincial and federal levels to communicate and share priorities, negotiating opportunities for consultation, and securing the necessary resources to fund municipal services for Nova Scotians.

NSFM draws its authority from provincial legislation. An Act to Incorporate the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities (1981), adopted on June 24, 1981 and amended in 2003, identifies the organization's objects, powers, and non-profit status. The Province of Nova Scotia also granted a request from the organization on September 3, 2019, to amend the legislation to incorporate Nova Scotia Federation of Municipalities as the new name of the organization.

NSFM also leads the coordination of cross-sector policy research relating to the implementation of municipal legislation and regulations by engaging with academia, the business community, senior administrative officials, and relevant stakeholders. The organization administers initiatives, such as the Sustainable Communities Challenge Fund, which offer much needed support within our communities.

Member municipalities encompass the following seven regions, which are outlined in the NSFM By-laws:

- Cape Breton-Strait
- Cape Breton Regional Municipality
- Cumberland-Colchester-Pictou
- Halifax Regional Municipality
- South Shore
- Southwestern
- Valley

The diversity of our membership means that NSFM is involved in a broad spectrum of issues affecting urban areas, towns, and rural communities.
